Copyright Information

For Authors

Submission of a manuscript implies: that the work described has not been published before (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, review or thesis, or news); that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere; that its publication has been approved by all co-authors, if any, as well as – tacitly or explicitly – by the responsible authorities at the institution where the work was carried out.

Author warrants (i) that he/she is the sole owner or has been authorized by any additional copyright owner to assign the right, (ii) that the article does not infringe any third party rights, and no license from or payments to a third party is required to publish the article and (iii) that the article has not been previously published or licensed. The author accepts responsibility for releasing this material on behalf of any and all co-authors. After the paper is submitted and officially published, it means that the author transfers the copyright of the paper to our journal. So do not sign any copyright transfer statement again. After the official publication of the paper, our journal will not accept any changes in author identity or the order of listed authors

The copyright to this article, including any graphic elements therein (e.g. illustrations, charts, moving images), is assigned for good and valuable consideration to Our journal effective if and when the article is accepted for publication and to the extent assignable if the assigned ability is restricted for by applicable law or regulations (e.g. for U.S. government or crown employees).

After the formal publication of the paper, the author can publish it again in other journals, but in the re publication, it must be clearly stated that it has already been published in our journal and the name of our journal must be indicated.

The copyright assignment includes without limitation the exclusive, assignable, and sublicensable right, unlimited in time and territory, to reproduce, publish, distribute, transmit, make available, and store the article, including abstracts thereof, in all forms of media of expression now known or developed in the future, including pre- and reprints, translations, photographic reproductions, and microform. Our journal may use the article in whole or in part in electronic form, such as use in databases or data networks for display, print, or download to stationary or portable devices. This includes interactive and multimedia use and the right to alter the article to the extent necessary for such use.

Authors may self-archive the Author accepted manuscripts of their articles on their websites. Authors may also deposit this version of the article in any repository.

Prior versions of the article published on non-commercial pre-print servers like arXiv.org can remain on these servers and/or can be updated with Author's accepted version. The final published version (in pdf or html/xml format) cannot be used for this purpose. Acknowledgment needs to be given to the final publication and a link must be inserted to the published article on Our journal's website, accompanied by the text "The final publication is available at link. <http://ijgsw.net/> and <https://ijgsw.eu.org/>". The author retains the right to use his/her article for his/her further scientific career by including the final published journal article in other publications such as dissertations and postdoctoral qualifications provided acknowledgment is given to the original source of publication.
